After The Move Checklist

Things to do when the movers leave

Now that the movers have come and gone, you can congratulate yourself on a job well done. You know how much planning and organization went into making it all happen and you deserve a chance to sit and relax. But don't throw away that checklist just yet. There are still plenty of things to do before you can completely be settled. Here are a few important things to do besides unpacking.

✓ You will need to update your driver's license and get new tags and plates for your cars. Check with your local Division of Motor Vehicles for more details, or refer to our Newcomer and Community Information inside this magazine.

✓ Be sure that the post office is going to forward your mail to your new address. You can do this online, or you can fill out a form at your local post office and maybe even meet some new neighbors while standing in line!

✓ Make sure all of your insurance policies are up to date. You may need new policies for your house, auto and health, particularly if you have moved to a new state.

✓ A great way to learn about your new community is to order a subscription to the local newspaper. Many even offer discounts for new subscribers and they often have local neighborhood editions inserted weekly. This is a great way to learn the ins and outs of your new neighborhood.

✓ Search out new health professionals such as doctors, dentists, and even vets. These are things you will want to have in place before any emergency pops up. Neighbors and co-workers are always a good referral source for these types of services.

✓ Most likely you will need to register to vote. Even if you have just moved from one county to another within the same state, most states will require that you register in your new county. For more information, you can refer to our Newcomer and Community Information inside this magazine.

✓ Make a visit to the neighborhood bank or credit union to set up new accounts, have money transferred, get credit and debit cards, and order those checks with your new address.

✓ Visit your local library and get a library card. The kids can even get their own with their new address on it! The local library is another great place to meet other families in your new neighborhood.

✓ Visit your neighborhood schools and get your children enrolled as soon as possible. You may also want to consider enrolling them in an online or charter school, as most states offer this type of education at no cost because it is a public school. Either way, the sooner you get your children enrolled and involved in the community, the faster they will adapt to their new environment.

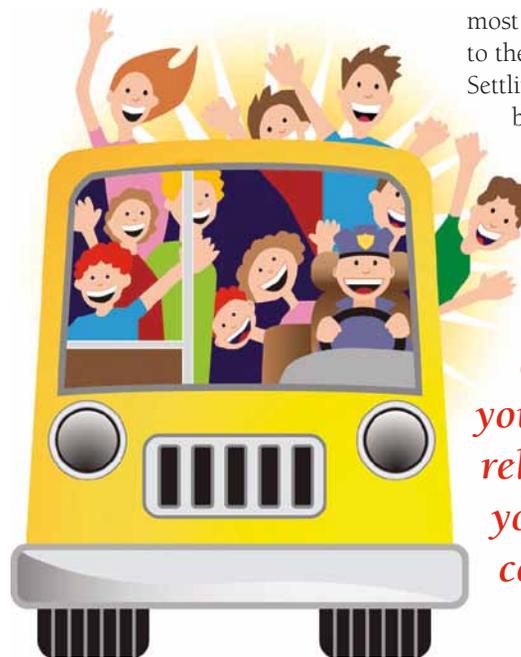

✓ Find a place in your new home to keep all your receipts and documents related to your move all in one file. You will need to know where everything is in the event you need to make an insurance claim with the movers or when you file your income taxes the next spring.

✓ Keep in mind that your insurance policies may have a limited time that you can file a claim regarding items damaged during your move. You should run a check of all your electronics and major appliances to make sure they have survived the move and are in good working order. These are most likely all items that would be expensive to replace, so you should make sure they are all working as soon as you can.

Remember that moving is the third most stressful life event, according to the Employee Relocation Council. Settling in will be a gradual process, but your patience will be rewarded in the long run.

The quicker you can cross these things off your checklist, the sooner you can begin to relax and truly enjoy your new home and community.

Will Your Remodeling Project PAY OFF?

There are financial factors to consider before you choose a home improvement project and smart homeowners will consider resale value before making a major remodeling investment. Each year REMODELING magazine publishes a study that can help homeowners determine the return on investment for their home improvement projects.

This Cost vs. Value Report contrasts the cost of home improvements with their recouped value if the house is sold today. They compare construction costs for several projects, with estimates of the projects' value in a current market resale scenario. Real estate professionals in residential markets across the country provided return-on-investment estimates.

Landscaping and fresh paint may lure house hunters inside, but once in the door, buyers of existing homes look for functionality, durability, and convenience. That's why it's so important for a resale to be modernized.

Kitchens and baths are among the most popular home improvement projects, which can drive the return on investment. Reports often show that many remodeling dollars are spent within the first two years of move in. Under those circumstances repair and replacement projects such as windows or siding may get first attention if they require maintenance. As the housing stock ages, and existing homes continue to sell more than 6 million units a year, those projects may see an increased return on investment. To perform as an amenity, your home's improvement projects should complement and match the style of the existing property.

The resale value of each project is an estimate based on a current market resale scenario. This can be misleading because many newly remodeled homes are not put on the market so soon.

Smart homeowners will ask many questions before starting any remodel or home improvement project. Get advice from both realtors and contractors to decide which home improvement projects make sense for your special circumstances and to insure you get the greatest return on your investment.

Information provided by "Remodeling 2020 Cost vs. Value Report." Complete data from this report can be downloaded free at www.cost-vsvalue.com.

Say Goodbye to the Previous Owners!

What do you know about the previous owners of your new home? Did they smoke inside the house? Did they have pets? Did they recently remodel? One way to say goodbye to the previous owners—and their lingering odors—is to get your air ducts cleaned.

The National Air Duct Cleaners Association recommends getting your air ducts cleaned every three to five years.

Why Clean Air Ducts?

According to the National Air Duct Cleaners Association, normal accumulations of dust and dirt can be found in all homes with air ducts. There are several factors that can increase the need for an HVAC system cleaning following your move into a new home:

- Pets – did the previous owners have pets?
- Cigarette or cigar smoke – did the previous owners smoke in the house?
- Does anyone your family have allergies or asthma?
- Has there been previous water contamination or damage to the home or HVAC system?
- Is this a newly built, or newly remodeled home? If so, it's likely the ducts have built up debris from drywall dust and other material used during the construction phase.

Some people are more sensitive to these contaminants such as allergy and asthma sufferers, young children and the elderly.

When to Clean Air Ducts?

The Environmental Protection Agency recommends cleaning air ducts when:

- You suspect mold exists in the air ducts
- You notice a vermin infestation somewhere in your home, or you see insects or rodents entering or existing ductwork.
- You see visible “proof” of dust released from the supply registers when air is exiting the vents.

How to Hire a Good Air Duct Cleaning Company

- A good duct cleaning costs between $400 and $1,000 and addresses every aspect of the system that air passes over, including the furnace, air coils and central system. Good cleaners will use negative air machines with HEPA filters.
- It should take a few hours. An air duct cleaner who's in and out in less than an hour probably didn't do a good job.

- Don't use the $200 companies. These are less reputable contractors who will use the very low price to get into your house and then keep piling on extra charges.

Security Tips for New Homeowners

12 Tips to Stay Safe and Protect Your Investment.

1 Change the locks. There is no telling how many people have a key to the locks on your house – no matter what your realtor says. You should also consider installing deadbolt locks or charlie-bars for additional safety.

2 Don't leave moving boxes on the curb. Leaving these items in plain sight will alert burglars that you've just completed a stressful move, and may not be paying close attention to home security.

3 Be careful when disposing of product packaging. You do not want to advertise recent purchases for your new home.

4 Secure your windows. The second most common entrance for burglars is a window. This includes second story windows that may have access from a garage, roof, or a tree with a strong branch.

5 Trim your trees and shrubs. Overgrown landscape can provide access to second floor windows or create hiding places.

6 Do not store ladders or trash cans outside. They can be used to provide easy access to second floor windows or scale fences.

7 Make friends with the neighbors. Forming relationships with your new neighbors can be beneficial in many ways. You can keep an eye on each other's houses during vacations and learn about neighborhood watch programs.

8 Hang sheer curtains, blinds or other window treatments. This will keep people from the outside looking in and checking out any new electronics or valuable items you may have purchased for your new home.

9 Never hide a key outside. Burglars know all of the good hiding places.

10 Upgrade your smoke alarms and carbon monoxide detectors. Start fresh with new batteries and test them to make sure they work.

11 Install security lighting. A bright, well-lit home is a burglar's worst nightmare. Security lighting around your home will deter anyone looking for a place to hide while they break in. Replace burnt out porch lights and install motion lights.

12 Install a home security system. A home security system with professional monitoring will provide your home with a layer of protection that can't be duplicated. According to the Electronic Security Association Inc, homes that don't have alarm systems are three times more likely to be burglarized than those that do. You can also save money on your homeowners' insurance by equipping your home with a security system.

Yes, You Can Join a Credit Union!

It used to be that a person could only open an account at a credit union because they or a family member was employed by a certain company, or they worked for the government. That has changed because now just about anyone will find they are eligible to join a credit union.

Here are the top reasons to join a credit union.

As you begin to settle into your new community and wade through the numerous options available, you just may find that credit union membership is the answer to all your financial needs.

1. Better interest rates and lower fees.

Credit unions are usually able to offer their members better interest rates and lower fees. When you're getting better interest rates and paying lower fees, you get to keep and save more of YOUR money, helping you take-charge of your financial life.

2. Full line of products and services.

Most credit unions can give you the same services as a bank—like checking, savings, investment funds, mortgage loans, car loans and even school loans—and credit unions will offer online financial services and bilingual capabilities as well.

3. Convenient.

Credit unions are financial cooperatives, and that means they cooperate—with their members and with other credit unions. Through that cooperation, credit unions have one of the largest ATM networks in the U.S. Credit union members have convenient access to 25,000 surcharge-free ATMs in the U.S., 800,000 ATMs worldwide and more than 2,300 lobby locations in the U.S. and even some foreign countries.

4. Member-owned.

Credit unions are owned by their members and they operate to make profits for each individual, no matter how big or small their account balance.

5. Expertise.

Credit unions know what they're doing. They have the expertise and will give you the personal attention you need to help you make important financial decisions that will benefit your bottom line, not theirs. Credit unions treat you like the boss, because at a credit union you're not just a customer you're an owner.

Check out the credit unions in your community and discover why they rank high in customer satisfaction surveys. Also, check out Westerra Credit Union, page 5.

Protect Your Finances and Your Home With these Post-Move Steps

Buying a home is the largest purchase most people will ever make. In order to protect your finances and your largest financial investment, there are certain post-move steps you might want to consider.

Review your will or trust

A good post-move step is to review your will or trust to make sure that your home is a part of those documents. You will need to make sure that this paperwork includes your new home and that your beneficiaries are updated.

Purchase or adjust your life insurance policy

Whether you are a first-time homebuyer or have a house with a larger mortgage than before, you may want to purchase or increase your life insurance coverage. One way to determine how much life insurance you might need is to make sure it includes coverage for 10 years of income, plus any large debts like your mortgage.

Drop your PMI (Private Mortgage Insurance)

PMI may have been required if you purchased your home with less than 20 percent down. This is an extra payment every month that protects the mortgage lender if you were ever to stop making payments on your home loan. This is money you will never recoup and becomes an even worse negative if the value of your home ever decreases. To remove PMI, you must have at least 20% equity in your home. You may ask the lender to cancel PMI when you have paid down the mortgage balance to 80% of your home's original appraised value.

Get a Home Warranty

If you didn't get a home warranty as part of the purchase process, you might want to consider getting one now. This will help protect you from the unexpected costs of a major home repair or replacement of major appliances as well as your home's heating and air conditioning systems. You can still get one after you move in, as long as no issues have presented themselves yet. If you don't purchase a home warranty, you should at least work at building up your emergency savings to cover the costs of an unexpected "surprise" so that you don't end up in a financial bind trying to cover the cost of repairs on your own.

6 Tips for Choosing the Right Paint

To help simplify things, ask yourself these six questions about your personal preferences and lifestyle.

If you've ever been confused at the paint counter, you're not alone. Most home centers and paint stores sell a dizzying array of coatings in every conceivable color and sheen. That can make it difficult for anyone to pick the right paint. The answers to these 6 questions will help guide you through the maze of interior paints available today and make your purchasing decision a snap.

1 How sensitive am I to paint smell?

If you abhor paint odor, you should favor water-based latex paints, which have little or no odor compared to oil-based or alkyd coatings. Latex paints also simplify cleanup and perform exceptionally well on all interior surfaces. These advantages help explain why latex paints have become the overwhelming choice of both do-it-yourselfers and professional painters.

2 How much activity will take place in the space I am painting?

If the room you are painting will see a lot of activity, the painted surface could get soiled. In that case, it's best to use a glossier product (a high gloss or semi-gloss paint), which will tend to resist stains and are much easier to clean. If the room will see little activity, you could use any level of sheen — from a flat paint to a high gloss finish.

3 What atmosphere do I want to create in the room?

If your goal is to make the space cozy, consider using a “warm” color from the red, yellow or orange family; if you want it to seem cool, apply blues or greens.

4 Do I wish the room were bigger (or smaller)?

If you feel the space seems cramped (or, at the other extreme, cavernous), you can do something about it by selecting the right color of paint. Lighter colors make a room seem larger, while darker colors make it feel more intimate.

5 How often do I typically repaint?

If you paint only every so often, you'll want to apply a durable, color-fast paint that will hold up well and continue to look good for a very long time. The best option in this regard is a top quality 100% acrylic latex interior paint.

6 How much time do I want to devote to this painting project?

If your time is limited, or you just want to complete the project quickly, then consider applying a “paint and primer” product that works like two coatings in one. You'll likely need to apply fewer coats, which will save a lot of time — and you'll still get superior results.

Considering these questions takes just a few moments, but saves a lot of consternation when you are at your paint retailer's. More importantly, the answers will help you quickly identify the very best type of paint for your next home beautification project!

Trending Colors in Home Design 2021

American Furniture Warehouse

We are looking ahead to home design trends that have been forecasted in the New Year and we are bringing these color trends to life! Read below for insights and tips on this year's color picks and seasonal palettes presented by Pantone®, one of the top experts in color that establish the colors of the year which influence all areas of design from home to fashion.

COLORS OF THE YEAR 2021 – ULTIMATE GRAY + ILLUMINATING YELLOW

For 2021, Pantone® announced two colors for the Color of the Year; Ultimate Gray and Illuminating Yellow. You can marry these colors or use them separately depending on your preference. We designed a contemporary accent chair and added a hint of gray using a decorative pillow to represent these opposite but positive color shades.

The gray and yellow color combination is a color trend that is here to stay as these color duos have been making their way into home furnishings over the last few years. Our Maxwell Gray Collection highlights the popular use of these two colors.

You don't have to revamp your entire space to embrace this year's new colors – you can add subtle yet effective upgrades to your space using home décor items like decorative pillows!

Spring/Summer 2021 Color Palettes

Pantone®'s spring color palettes are inspired by rich floral blooms and seasonal pastels. Summer Bouquet by Pantone® presents dramatic pinks, reds and lush greens. We got inspired by this particular palette and took the suggestion from the orange blush tone found in this color lineup. Digging deep into the palette's inspiration from nature, we put together a small design and made the tangerine orange the focus using an accent chair and matching it to a colorful art piece. Playing on the greens represented in the palette, we used faux plants to help tie together this celebration of Spring and rejuvenation.

Create an Outdoor Room

Sitting comfortably with friends or family in the backyard on a cool summer evening, with a warm fire and dinner sizzling on the grill, is pure pleasure. It is also the reason why people are turning their yards and decks into inviting outdoor living spaces. People are extending the comfort and luxury of their homes into the great outdoors, and the result is the popular trend called the “outdoor room.”

Anyone can easily create an outdoor room. In general, the concept encompasses a grilling and eating area, pulled together with a hearth product, such as a fireplace or firepit.

The Hearth, Patio & Barbecue Association offers information to consider when designing and building an outdoor room.

Determine Use and Home’s Style. Jot down ideas about how the space will be used in all of its applications, from entertaining to relaxing. Clip or print pictures and put them into a notebook. It’s important to have an understanding of a home’s architectural style when creating an outdoor room so that the outdoor space accentuates the home’s indoor spaces. There are products available for every taste and style.

Visit a Specialty Retailer. Take the notebook and wish list to a specialty retailer that sells hearth, barbecue and patio products. A specialty retailer can help determine the materials and outdoor room products available in an area and guide the final plan, as well as coordinate installation. After obtaining the details from a specialty retailer, go online to review products and manufacturer information.

Consider Fire and Food. These are key elements in every well-designed outdoor room. Position the fireplace as the focal point, blend in the cooking and eating areas and then consider additional features.

Think foundation and draw a plan. Stone patios, retaining walls, fences and decks are basic foundation elements. The best way to achieve the desired end result is to sketch out a plan. Don’t worry about picture-perfect drawings – it’s the general idea that counts!

Accessorize with landscaping, furniture and lighting. Select comfortable patio furniture that invites people to settle in for an extended period of time. In addition to tables and chairs for the eating area, consider chaise lounges, couches and side tables. To extend the amount of time spent outdoors, consider lighting for pathways, around pools, or to accentuate landscaping.

Work with a professional. A specialty retailer is a key partner in creating an outdoor room. In addition to expertise and products, a specialty retailer can offer key insights about what’s available in a particular area and what works best in a certain climate.

For more information, visit the Hearth, Patio & Barbecue Association at www.hpba.org.

Organize Your Kitchen, Bathroom, Pantry & More!

Roll'em Out Shelves, can organize your new home in 4 easy steps!

Don't wait until your new home is a mess and cluttered like your previous home. Meet Joyce and Brent Toliver. They are the owners of a family-owned and operated roll out shelf company and have been in business since 2002. They offer custom service and make their roll outs right here in Colorado, which allows them to create your roll outs exactly how you want. They will take the time to listen to what you want and will work with you until you are happy. They will travel anywhere from Fort Collins to Castle Rock to personally meet their neighbors in need of customized shelves. They strive to provide you with the most excellent customer service, as if you were part of their own family!

Bring convenience and organization to your new home with just a few simple adjustments. Follow these steps to turn your new house into the home of your dreams!

Step 1 / Estimate

The process starts with a no-obligation, free, in-home estimate and measurement of each cabinet. You will meet with Brent and Joyce, as they personally attend all in-home estimates, so you get to meet exactly who you'll be working with. Their scheduling is flexible and prompt, and they are happy to meet during evenings or weekends.

Step 2 / Create

After they have taken measurements of each cabinet, they will then go back to the warehouse to design and create your new customized shelves. These new designs will streamline your space – no more awkward bending and twisting. Imagine turning your storage into usable storage space and increasing storage capacity by up to 50%! Your new shelves will be custom made here in their warehouse in Colorado.

Step 3 / Install

Brent will return to your home to install their carefully-crafted, customized shelves, while understanding you are busy, too. Their installations are quick, professional, clean and on your time. They strive to make no trail of work being done, as if they just waved their magic wand to install your shelves.

Step 4 / Satisfaction

Since Brent and Joyce listen to what you want and will work with you until you are satisfied, they don't finish any project until this is met. Your new roll-out shelves are backed with a lifetime warranty to ensure your satisfaction is permanent.

Organizationally challenged?

Now's the time to bring order to your home – and your life

Anyone who has ever moved into a new home knows the giddiness of starting fresh and getting the opportunity to finally get organized!

But all too often, we rush to unpack and then spend weeks, months, if not years, trying to organize and re-organize our stuff.

Don't let this happen to you. Take the time to create a game plan and then follow through. Have a designated place for every item you own BEFORE you unpack one box.

Get started

Hopefully, you already purged unused, broken or unneeded items BEFORE you moved. This not only saves time, money and precious space, it allows you to move into your new home without additional clutter.

Beginning with the kitchen — lay out a plan to store items closest to the area you will use them.

- Place cookware adjacent to the stove while glassware and dishes should be stored near the sink and dishwasher.
- Keep sandwich bags, foil, plastic wrap and parchment paper in one drawer for quick access to pack lunches or wrap up leftovers.

- Use risers or lazy-susans to display spices, canned goods and other pantry items in cupboards to avoid things getting lost in the back.
- Consider a grocery inventory list on the fridge or inside a cupboard to avoid duplicate items.
- If you love to bake, create a special area to house all your baking dishes, mixers, rolling pin, flour, sugar, etc. in one place.
- For fine china and crystal that is not used daily, pack carefully and store elsewhere, such as the basement, garage or a buffet so it doesn't take up precious real estate in your kitchen.

In living areas, seek out furniture that not only is beautiful but functional to help with your storage needs. For example, a trunk that can be filled with blankets and extra pillows can make a great cocktail table. Built-ins can artfully display sentimental items, framed photos, books and plants.

Keep bathrooms clutter-free for easy clean-up. Install medicine cabinets and make full use of cabinetry to store essentials. Stock each bathroom with a mini cleaning kit: surface, glass and toilet bowl cleaners, sponges, paper towels, etc. Stowed in a handled bucket under the sink, this portable kit will make keeping up with daily and weekly cleaning a snap.

Avoid turning your entryway into a dumping ground by installing hooks for coats and backpacks, put out a basket or boot tray for footwear and have a small table with a beautiful bowl or soap dish to keep keys from getting lost. A nearby wastebasket catches junk mail.

A closet case

One of the most important spaces to organize is in your closets.

- Store outerwear, umbrellas, hats, gloves, scarves in your hallway closet. Don't overstuff it so you have room for visitor's belongings when entertaining. Install hooks inside the door for a tote that you can fill with items going to the dry cleaner. When it's full, just take the tote to your car.
- In your bedroom closets, sort like items together and organize by color BEFORE hanging anything. Use the same hangers – wooden, padded or those velvet-covered slimline ones – for a beautifully cohesive look.
- Keep frequently used items at eye-level.
- No shoe shelves? Store footwear in clear boxes or tape a photo to the outside of each shoebox to save time looking for just the right pair of heels or loafers.
- Optimize your linen closets by storing same-sized sheet sets together in their matching pillowcases. Use tote-able baskets or canvas cubes to store extra tablecloths, napkins and placemats. Another option is hanging cleaned and pressed tablecloths on a skirt or pant hanger in your closet.
- If you have extra closets, store out-of-season clothes there or in long plastic bins under the bed. A well outfitted closet should include shelving, hanging space with varying heights, drawers and/or open storage bins. If your closet falls short, consider investing in a closet organizing system.

So now that you are completely organized, you need to stay that way. Make a habit of putting things away when you're done using them. Each night spend just 10-15 minutes before bed straightening things up, wiping down countertops and returning misplaced items to their rightful home.

Waking up each morning to a clean, orderly home will set a positive tone for the day ahead.

Making One Room into Two – With a Murphy Bed

Are you now working from home and longing for an office as opposed to the kitchen table? Do you have extra kids living at home that you hadn't counted on? A Murphy Bed is a great solution to all of these space challenges. During the day it's a cabinet or even a desk, while at night it provides the extra bed you need.

The original Murphy Bed was invented by William Murphy in the early 1900's to solve the need to hide his bed while entertaining in his tiny one room apartment in San Francisco. The Murphy, or Wall Bed, as it is also called, has come a long way since then, with the range of materials and accompanying furniture limited only by your space itself.

WHAT DOES A MURPHY BED LOOK LIKE?

"Although the web is a good place to start, a Murphy Bed is such a visual product that it needs to be seen to understand all the options that are available. That's why we built our 2-story showroom which contains over 35 displays," says Steve Beckmann, the owner of Smart Spaces. Now in its 16th year, Smart Spaces is unique in that its main focus is on the Murphy Bed with its accompanying furniture such as offices, closets and entertainment centers. Steve estimates that they have designed and built over 4000 beds, ranging from the simple side bed for a basement to cabinetry containing everything from wine bars to secret rooms.

"It generally takes people two or three visits to truly decide what will best work for their space. Our designers have excellent software that help the customer envision how their room can be used. Everything is custom built, and designs can often take weeks to complete with the designers coming out to measure and offer suggestions to modify the plans."

HOW BIG DOES MY SMALL ROOM HAVE TO BE?

The size of the bed depends on the height of the wall where the Murphy Bed would go. Generally, 90" is needed for a queen and king size bed, while full and twin sizes require 85" in height. If the ceilings are lower, then a side Murphy Bed works equally well and is often used in basements and in narrow rooms where the width is an issue.

"Although the web is a good place to start, a Murphy Bed is such a visual product that it needs to be seen to understand all the options that are available."

Once color, material, mattress and handles are decided, the order goes into production which takes place onsite at the store. (Ask the owners for a peek downstairs to see the beds being made!). The production and install teams are true craftsmen who have been with the company an average of 7 years. A new option available is the Cabinet Murphy Bed, a bed which does not require a wall at all and can be picked up and taken home the same day.

After your bed has been installed, you will wonder why you haven't had one before. In today's world a Murphy Bed goes a long way to make the most of your space.

Drab to Fab in 3 Easy Steps

Give your old things a new life without busting your budget

How exciting to move into your new home! But when your furniture and accessories are unpacked, it can sometimes feel like it is just the same old stuff in a brand new setting.

Unfortunately a move usually means money will be tight for awhile. So how do you freshen up your new space without breaking the bank?

Follow these three steps to breathe new life into your home, room by room:

STEP 1: Evaluate each space. When you live with items for a long time, it can be easy to overlook furniture that is in disrepair, tattered pillows or accessories that are just plain ugly or boring. Step back and give a more critical scan of the place – as if you are visiting someone else’s home. Does your home’s décor reflect your family’s lifestyle? Is your furniture both functional and attractive? Are you still hanging on to hand-me-down furniture that you have been hauling around for the last 20 years? If something is way past its prime, throw it out or replace it with a new piece that better fits your style. Once you review what you have, edit your stuff. Do you display things that you don’t really care for but were a gift or perhaps you feel obligated to put it out simply because it was expensive? You’re in a new home and deserve a fresh start. Give yourself permission to only live with the things you love and use every day.

STEP 2: Create a “theme” that can unify your entire home. We’re not talking animal prints or country roosters. A theme means finding a common element, such as a fabric, a bold accent color or general palette, which can be incorporated in each room that brings a fashionable cohesiveness to the space. Paint is the top choice for an instant and affordable update. Neutrals are the easiest choice for walls and offer the most flexibility, but they don’t have to be boring. Instead of tan, select “greige” – a beautiful combination of beige and gray that provides a fresh and neutral backdrop for any style of furniture.

Keep up to date on the latest paint color trends and take advice from Sue Wadden, Director of Color Marketing at Sherwin Williams. Late last year she announced Urbane Bronze SW 7048 as the 2021 color of the year. The hue instills calmness and has ties to nature. “The home is now the ultimate retreat from the world, and color is an easy and effective way to create a personal haven. Urbane Bronze encourages you to create a sanctuary space for mindful reflection and renewal,” says Wadden.

STEP 3: Go for it! Starting with the space your family uses most, paint the whole room or consider adding a new hue to just the ceiling. With a fresh backdrop, start experimenting with furniture placement. Moving sofas and chairs away from the walls creates a more intimate setting for conversation and visually makes a room appear larger. Switch things up – how about swapping the living room loveseat with a family room reading chair in your new home? You will be amazed how much difference simply moving your old things around the house makes.

Simple changes = Big impact

- 👉 If you don’t want to commit to painting an entire room, try just one spectacular wall in a rich, fabulous color like dark chocolate, eggplant, bronze or dark orange.
- 👉 Update your lighting, including adding dimmers wherever possible. CFLs are environmentally-friendly and great options to save energy and money.
- 👉 Declutter, declutter, declutter.
- 👉 A fabulous new area rug in the living or dining room can add a shot of energy.
- 👉 Pay special attention to your entryway – as that is the first impression people will get of your space. Make it warm and inviting.
- 👉 Consider slipcovers for an immediate new twist on old furniture.
- 👉 Fresh flowers are always an instant pick-me-up.

Custom Closets – What to Look for, and Where

Mark Lestikow, president of The Closet Factory in Denver encourages new movers to use this as an opportunity to change bad habits and get organized right from the start. “Moving into a new home with newly organized closets adds to the pleasure of a happy experience. I would definitely encourage new movers to organize their closets now, to facilitate settling into their new environment and avoid dissatisfactions that may arise from the honey this doesn’t fit syndrome.”

The following five questions should help you identify the closet, and the closet company right for you.

1. Are there different types of closet systems, or are they all pretty similar? There are two main types of closet units. One is called a wall-hung system, and the other a floor-based system. Ask the closet companies you interview the difference between the two, and which would be most appropriate for your individual needs and expectations.

2. Custom manufactured vs. prebuilt systems? Although most closet companies say they are custom, few truly are. A custom closet, as you would expect, is high in quality, offers more efficient space utilization and often is the best value for your investment.

3. Will I have the opportunity to work with a design consultant or see a showroom with examples of product? Having a trained professional designer come to your home is a nice option because they can take your exact measurements and prepare a personalized design that fits your specific needs.

4. What about installation? It is important to distinguish if the installers are employees or independent contractors. There can be a tremendous difference in the final result if a trained employee installs your custom closet versus an untrained independent.

5. How do I pick the right company? The company you choose to install your custom closet is your key decision. All custom closet companies are not the same. Evaluate how you were treated from the first time you called. Were you able to speak with a knowledgeable person immediately, or at least receive a prompt returned call to your inquiry?

Be sure to get a written guarantee, preferably one that will be in effect as long as you live in the house.

Ask to see a customer list. Call some people on this list. If a company doesn’t do good work, people will not likely recommend them. Enjoy your new home and your closets!

Providing Orthopedic Care for Your Family

Dr. Assini

Dr. Tuttle

Dr. Chang

The Evolution of Total Hip Replacement Surgery

Q: Dr. Assini, what are the most common surgical techniques for total hip replacements?

A: The posterior approach is the most traditional technique and the most common. The surgeon makes an 8-10 inch incision at the back of the hip and cuts through the posterior muscles to reach the hip joint.

The latest and most innovative approach is the anterior percutaneously assisted total hip approach. This is an evolution and improvement over the direct anterior approach.

Q: What is the anterior percutaneously assisted total hip approach and how is it different from the direct anterior approach?

A: The anterior percutaneously assisted total hip approach is an improvement over direct anterior total hip replacement because it uses a cannula, to aid in the preparation and replacement of the hip socket. This allows the surgeon to use a smaller incision placed in a location that will minimize chance of nerve injury. Finally, we perform the procedure through a “bikini” type incision which is very small and placed within the skinfold of the hip. This improves the cosmetic appearance of the scar and allows for quicker healing minimizing risk of infection.

Q: Where is this approach being performed?

A: The anterior percutaneously assisted total hip approach is currently being performed in only five centers in the USA and Canada, with Swedish Medical Center the only hospital in Colorado to offer it. I have assisted in developing this technique and I also instruct other surgeons in how to adopt it. As we move to more rapid recovery joint replacement procedures, minimally invasive approaches and reliably placed implants will become increasingly important. The anterior percutaneously assisted total hip is an important step forward to help patients return to pain free mobility and an improved quality of life.

Knee Replacement Surgeries Can Relieve Pain, Return Range of Motion

The newest cutting-edge trend in knee replacement technology is a cement-free, press fit knee replacement. Rather than using cement to fix the implant to the end of the bone, we biologically fix the implant. With a press-fit knee, we use a porous metal joint, which allows your body to incorporate the implant. Basically, the bone grows into the microscopic pores on the roughened metal surface, resulting in what we call biological fixation.

A press-fit knee is superior to using cement because it won't de-bond over time and cause the implant to loosen, which in a recent study was the most common cause of knee replacement failure. Press-fit knees are associated with better outcomes and less revision surgery. We also use computer navigation for our knee replacements so we can be as minimally invasive as possible. Most people are good candidates for this type of surgery, which has a fairly fast recovery — by the three month mark, we expect you'll be back outside enjoying the activities you love to do. My best advice for patients who are facing a knee replacement in the near future is to find an orthopedic surgeon who does a high volume of press-fit knee replacements and utilizes computer navigation to achieve as perfect alignment of the knee possible.

Weekend Warriors and Joint Health: Better Safe than Sorry

Q: Why are “weekend warriors” more susceptible to injury?

A: Any strenuous activity can put you at a higher risk for injury. Sports injuries are among the most common ones we see OrthoONE, especially for “weekend warriors” who are active on Saturday and Sunday but are less active for most of the week.

Q: What types of sports injuries are most common?

A: The most common sports injuries affect the knees, but we also see hip, shoulder, elbow and spine injuries. For skiers, we most commonly see ACL injuries, but we also often see fractures and broken bones, pulled muscles, torn ligaments and dislocated joints as a result of winter sports.

Q: What can people do to protect their joints?

A: The best way to prevent a sports injury is to be prepared. Stretch and warm up your muscles before you get started, and exercise to get in shape before the season starts. Always wear protective gear, especially if you've had a previous injury. And know your limits – don't challenge yourself too much or take unnecessary risks.

Doctors Assini, Chang and Tuttle are physicians with OrthoONE. As one of the largest orthopedic physician groups in Denver and Colorado, OrthoONE provides state-of-the-art orthopedic care to people of all ages and at all stages of life. # Moving with Children

Once the boxes are unpacked, the next step is to help your kids settle into their new neighborhood.

Here are a few tips that should help ease the transition.

Search for evidence of kids living on your street and in your neighborhood

Look for signs that kids live in a house—swing sets, bikes and other toys. Neighbors can be helpful as well, telling you which houses have children living there.

Spend time in a local park

Neighborhood parks are an ideal place to meet not only other kids, but other parents as well. There may even be a park inside your neighborhood where you can spend hours of time outside meeting new friends and learning about your new neighborhood. Get outside and good things will happen!

Host a party for kids

You can invite kids from the neighborhood and from the playground. Invite the parents to come so you can also meet new people, and deliver the party invites in person with your child door to door. If you keep it simple, it's a great way for you and your child to get to know the area.

Join the neighborhood community center

Most recreation centers and community centers have classes for kids, including recreational programs, sports teams, family swim times and more. Be sure to join along with your child and speak to staff members to see what other opportunities exist in your neighborhood.

Visit the library

We often forget that the local library is a wonderful place to meet other parents and children. Staff here can provide great information on what's going on in the neighborhood and can suggest family-friendly activities in your new neighborhood. Spending time in the children's section of the library and checking out books is a fantastic way to let your children interact with others.

Spend time outside

Sometimes all you need to do to meet the neighbors is to spend time in your front yard. Go for a walk, a bike ride or just hang out on your front porch.

If you do these things we've suggested, you are sure to be discovered by neighborhood kids and families and your child will feel happy and settled into their new home and neighborhood before you know it.

NEWCOMER AND COMMUNITY INFORMATION

Ten Digit Dialing

As a newcomer, you need to be aware that Colorado has ten-digit local dialing. It's really very easy. Just remember to dial the area code before the seven-digit local number. Dialing "1" before the ten digits is only needed when placing a long distance call. Keeping this in mind could prevent you from seeing unnecessary long-distance charges on your telephone bill. Remember, too, that you shouldn't dial a "0" when placing a ten-digit local call. Doing so will only route your call directly to a telephone operator.

Motor Vehicle Laws

Drivers licenses must be transferred within 30 days and vehicles must be registered within 90 days after becoming a Colorado resident. For motor vehicle and driver license purposes, you are considered a resident if you own or operate a business in Colorado, are gainfully employed in Colorado, or reside in Colorado for 90 consecutive days.

Out of state students are not required to obtain Colorado license plates or a Colorado driver license if they have valid plates and a valid license from their home state. Active duty U.S. military personnel and their spouses are also not required to obtain a Colorado driver license if they have a valid license from another state.

A newcomer to Colorado must obtain a Colorado driver license within 30 days after establishing residency. In most cases, if your present license is valid, you will only need to pass a written examination and eye test. For more information call 303-205-5600 or visit colorado.gov/dmv.

Auto Emissions Inspections

Emission testing is required when registering or selling vehicles in the counties of Denver, Boulder, Broomfield, Jefferson, Douglas and partial areas of Adams and Arapahoe counties. Testing can be done at any one of Envirotest's 14 convenient locations, or ask about Rapidscreen Roadside Emissions Testing. For more information on station locations, maps and directions, testing requirements and procedures, company information and job opportunities, visit them on the web at aircarecolorado.com or call the Air Care Colorado Hotline 303-456-7090 (See ad and article page 29.)

For further questions call the Department of Revenue Emissions at 303-205-5603.

Automobile Registration

To obtain your registration you must register your car in the county where you live and you must bring the following items:

- 1) A valid emissions test and a form DR2087 showing verification of your vehicle I.D. number. Both of these are available from an Emissions Inspection Station.
- 2) Vehicle title and registration.
- 3) Proof of insurance, which must include the year, make, and vehicle identification number (VIN) of the vehicle. Also, be sure to include the policy effective date.

A Colorado State vehicle inspection is required on all vehicles purchased with an out-of-state title. Fees may be paid by check, cash or money order.

You can contact your particular county for further information. Operating hours may vary. Check with each office for details.

Vehicle Emissions Inspection Requirements and Safety Procedures Explained at AirCareColorado.com

As the whole country adjusts to new rules and regulations brought about by COVID-19, so has Colorado's Front Range vehicle emissions inspection program. For those new to the Front Range, the vehicle registration and emissions inspection requirement may be confusing, made even more so by concerns about the coronavirus.

Fortunately, the Air Care Colorado website, www.aircarecolorado.com, and hotline, 303-456-7090, are available to help answer questions and steer new residents in the right direction. The website offers up-to-date information on station availability, hours, inspection and safety procedures as well as requirements for motorists visiting the stations.

Air Care Colorado has implemented extensive safety procedures to help ensure social distancing during the testing process and limit contact points to help reduce the threat of coronavirus transmittal between staff and customers. Emissions inspectors will wear masks and gloves at all times, practice social distancing as much as possible and periodically clean and disinfect surfaces. Motorists will be required to wear masks, practice social distancing and be limited to only one person per vehicle.

Know Before You Go... Basic Registration and Emissions Inspection Information

Before a vehicle, that is eight years or older, can be registered in Adams, Arapahoe, Broomfield, Boulder, Denver, Douglas, Jefferson, Larimer and most of Weld counties, they must first get an emissions inspection and usually a Vehicle Identification Number (VIN) inspection. Vehicles that are less than eight years old are exempt from inspection. If you are unsure if your vehicle requires and inspection, call the Air Care Colorado hotline at 303-456-7090 and press 0 to speak to an operator.

Best and Worst Times to Test

BEST TIMES...

- Middle two weeks of the month
- Saturdays

ALWAYS AVOID...

- LAST MONDAY of the month
- LAST DAY of the month
- ANY DAY AFTER a HOLIDAY

About Air Care Colorado

Vehicle emissions testing is part of the state of Colorado's overall strategy to improve air quality in and around Denver, Boulder and the North Front Range. Vehicles are one of the largest contributors to harmful air pollution that leads to adverse health effects.

Welcome Home – to Colorado

Believe it or not, the rumors are true- there's nothing quite like the Colorado outdoors. Offering scenic views, abundant wildlife and a wide range of recreational opportunities, Colorado's 42 state parks draw visitors from far and wide each year. These state parks can be found in your own backyard or just a day trip away. Online reservations at cpwshop.com from 6 months in advance up until the day of arrival make it easy to plan the outdoor getaway of a lifetime. Here are just a few of the unique experiences that await at Colorado state parks this season:

Boating at Jackson Lake State Park

A hidden treasure for those hoping to enjoy the open waters without the crowds, Jackson Lake is located just a few hours northeast of Denver and is three times larger than Cherry Creek Reservoir. Ranked one of the Top 15 Park Beaches by Reserve America, it offers the perfect reprieve as the weather starts to warm up. At night, the park's wide open spaces and dark skies make it an ideal location for stargazing with the family. While a bit further from Denver, Jackson Lake is well worth the drive.

Hiking at Trinidad Lake State Park

Piñon pine and juniper-covered hills at Trinidad Lake provide beautiful trails for the easy-going hiker hoping to take in the sights and sounds. The park is rich with history and heritage, housing several historic sites such as the coal mining ruins at Cokedale and the Santa Fe Trail. Reward yourself after a nice hike around the lake by taking a fishing break or lounging at one of the park's 73 campsites. Trinidad Lake is sure to become your next favorite destination.

Fishing at Crawford State Park

One of the largest warm water fisheries on the West Slope, Crawford is an angler's dream. Surrounded by stunning mountain scenery, there's nowhere better to fish for perch, crappie, lunger, channel catfish, bass and northern pike. The 400-acre reservoir offers a number of recreational opportunities year-round in addition to fishing such as water skiing and ice-skating.

Whatever the activity, Crawford is one for the books.

Cross-country Skiing/ snowshoeing at Stagecoach State Park

Nestled in the Yampa Valley of the Rockies, Stagecoach showcases the beauty of Colorado's high-altitude wilderness. The park is especially stunning when blanketed with snow and provides a quiet refuge for cross-country skiers or snowshoers. Fishing opportunities abound at its 3-mile-long reservoir home to fast-growing, hard-fighting rainbow trout, northern pike, and brown trout. Pick up your fishing license at Stagecoach's visitor center and make a day of one of Colorado's favorite pastimes.

Mountain Biking at Staunton State Park

The ideal location for an evening bike ride, Staunton provides nearly 20 miles of multi-use trails through a mosaic of meadows, granite cliffs, mountain forests and swift streams. Discover the park's history at the visitor center. Visitors with limited mobility can explore designated trails through Staunton's Track-Chair Program. It's no wonder that the land was once used as a place of healing by the Staunton family. ## Wildlife Viewing at Barr Lake State Park

Over 370 species of birds have been sighted at Barr Lake which offers several wildlife viewing stations from which to learn about and observe the park's deer, coyotes and numerous bald eagles. Located right on the northeast side of Denver, the 1,900-acre prairie reservoir is a convenient destination for a family picnic, fishing after work or kayaking on a weekend. Looking out over the water from one of the gazebos towards the striking Rocky Mountain backdrop, you may never want to leave.

This isn't just an acorn. It's sustenance for all woodland critters—a far more appropriate meal than your keto-friendly trail mix. Feeding wildlife puts us all at risk.

When animals become tame, they migrate closer to towns, bringing natural predators along with them. So by tossing that deer a nibble of your protein bar, you may be inviting a mountain lion to your next neighborhood potluck. Whether you're glamping, camping or hiking, keep your snacks to yourself.

Conservation starts small.
